

FIND A JEWELLERY GEM

Treat your inner magpie and spend a day at Treasure, Coutts London Jewellery Week's celebration of all things sparkly

Stumbling across buried treasure is everyone's dream – and visitors to Treasure will be able to do just that. Treasure is a 3-day (12-14 June) exhibition showcasing the work of more than 60 of the most exciting contemporary jewellery designers in the UK today. It's the perfect place to find that statement piece which will really stand out from the crowd this season. And don't forget many of the jewellers there will be offering special exhibition only discounts and are more than happy to discuss bespoke commissions. So if you're looking for something really unique - be it a wedding ring or a necklace to mark a special birthday or anniversary - then it's really worth a trip to Treasure. For more details and tickets to Treasure, go to www.londonjewelleryweek.co.uk.

WORKS OF ART

Jig Pattni's family have worked in the jewellery industry for over 500 years. His bespoke jewellery comes with the original artwork and designs.

MODERN ROMANCE

Sarah Herriot creates pieces of jewellery that are works of art. She is acclaimed for her use of cutting-edge 3D technology and the architectural quality of her designs.

A GIRL'S BEST FRIEND

Cindy Dennis Mangan of Dennis & Lavery specialises in contemporary diamond jewellery. Her pieces are decadent reminders of when real ladies wore real diamonds.

HARMONIOUS FUSION

Amanda Brighton is an Anglo-Tibetan jewellery designer whose pieces are an exciting fusion between East and West. Delicate craftsmanship and colour bring a sense of harmony to her pieces.

FLOWER POWER

Linnie McLarty believes in the mood-enhancing benefit of wearing the right piece of jewellery. Her most recent work focuses on the dark beauty of flowers.
